THE QUEEN'S PROPOSED CONTINENTAL TRIP-DOM PEDRO-THE CZAR AND THE HEBREWS -EMPEROR WILLIAM AS THE HEAD OF A FAMILY-THE MARCHION-

ESS OF WESTMINSTER. BY CABLE TO THE TRIBUNE. Copyright: 1821; Bu The Tribune Association. Nov. 16.-The Queen will proceed to the continent, according to present arrangements, at th end of March, and is to remain abroad nearly six Her Majesty will go first to either Florence Aix-les Bains, where she will stay between three and four weeks, and she will return home through Germany. The Queen is to be the guest of Empress prederick for about a week, at the latter's new chatean. Cronburg, in the Taunus country; after which Her Majesty will probably be entertained for a few tays at Coblenz by Emperor William, who is very jous to induce the Queen to visit him in Berlin, but it is unlikely that Her Majesty will consent to do so.

PLANS OF THE EMPRESS EUGENIE. Empress Eugenic is to be the guest of the Queen a door Castle next week, for a day or two. The Empress is about to build a villa on property, 7,000 square metres in extent, which she purchased a few ago, at Cap Martin, near Monaco, and the process of Aosta, Princess Letitia Bonaparte, intends establish a winter residence in the same neighbor Empress Eugenie will proceed early next month to Egypt. She does not intend to return to England entil May. Cap Martin is a new health station on the girlera, lying between Mentone and Monte Carlo, but is at a greater distance from the Alpes Maritime dan are those places, and thus it has an advntage er them of nearly an hour more sunshine in winter, and avoids the sweeping draughts which come dow the valleys and which are serious drawbacks at many the Riviera resorts. The Cap Martin Hotel, with is fourteen acres of land, is now completed, and affords sery accommodation for visitors. It is, I hear, perpet as to lighting, furnishing and sanitation. state is covered with pipes, and has a rich under growth of myrtle, etc.

THE THEATRICALS AT BALMORAL.

The theatricals at Bulmoral last week went off very indeed, and the Queen witnessed the performance a times. The plays produced were "Barbara," a one act comedy, and the capital farce of "Cool as a Chember." Her Majesty has a great penchant for Cheles Mathews's comedies, retaining a vivid rebrance of that admirable comedian.

The King and Queen of the Hellenes have been visiting the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland at Gmunden during their stay at Vienna their Majestles en loyed much pleasant intercourse with Emperor Francis Joseph. The fact that King George did not visit Berlit when he left Copenhagen excited much gossip at the German court. The truth is that Emperor William's annoyance and anger at the conversion of the Duches of Sparta have by no means abated. The Emperor who would like to exercise despotic control over ever member of his family, would not have real-hed his favor he sister's change of faith under any circumstances tically managed by the Ensslan court, and also because the Duchess acted quite independently of him, and, so for from soliciting his permission to enter the Greek Church, did not even send notice of her intention to The Emperor's exasperation was increased by strong suspicion that Empress Frederick had all along acquainted with the intention of the Duchess, and that she had expressed approval of the conversion.

STRIKES IN FIVE THEATRES.

STAGE-HANDS DEMAND MORE PAY.

NO SERIOUS TROUBLE AT ANY OF THE PLAY-

HOUSES-SOME OF THE MANAGERS YIELD. The "Limited Mail," at Niblo's Theatre, was late last night, and all on account of the Theatrical Pro-tective Union. As told in The Tribune yesterday, the stage carpenters and scene-shifters who belong to this union have made a demand on all the theatrical managers in this city for an increase in pay from $1 cases except by T. Henry French and J. M. Hill, The executive board of the union held a secret meeting yesterday at 5:30 p. m., and decided to order strikes in five theatres. The men were at once informed, and when the time came for them to go to work in the theatres they refused. The theatres where trouble occurred were the Columbus Theatre and Harlem Opera House, Oscar Hammerstein, manager; the Academy of Music and Niblo's Theatre, E. G. Gilmore manager, and the People's Theatre, H. C. Mine

The strikes in the Columbus Theatre and Harlem Opera House were short ones. stein learned that his stage hands, to the number of about thirty-eight, had quit work, he and his son Henry. went to them and after talking the matter over, granted the demands of the men, and they returned to work. At the People's Theatre there was a delay of only ten minutes. At the end of that time Mr. Miner granted the demand of his men and also agreed to pay them the difference between their wages and the scale demanded for the last two weeks.

The only real trouble was at the Academy of Music and at Niblo's Theatre. Mr. Gilmore refused to en-tertain any proposition for a settlement, and the scenes were set by the members of the companies in those theatres, with a delay of about half an hour. The trikes in these theatres will be continued.

For some reason the Lyceum Theatre has been mada conspicuous point in the story of the present was probably because the meeting of the managers last week was held there, and because Daniel Frohman was the chairman, and F. D. Bunce the business manager of the theatre, was the secretary. But these were accidents. Mr. Frohman wa of several others. Mr. Frohman said last night that he did not think his men wanted to strike. He would be willing, for his own part, to give them more pay, if he did think that they were getting enough already, but he thought that they were. He believed, too, that this showed a table of the sums paid to his stage hands for last week's work. There were about ten men. The lowest sum paid was $13. Only three men received less than $20 each, and one received $46. These sums were due in part to the fact of the change of companies at the theatre, the unusual moving of scenery and the rehearsals, but Mr. Frohman said that additional sums were often paid for one reason or another, and the $9 a week to which the men objected was not a fair estimate of what they actually received. He had some ien waiting around the corner last night to come in and work if they should be needed.

Henry C. Miner said yesterday that he wished ste make a correction of the published statement that he had promised to pay the advanced rates to his stage and then had not done so. He found on it vestigation that the extra payment had not been made, through a mistake of some of his employes, and he at once ordered it paid for the two weeks for which he agreed with the union to pay it. Mr. Minersown proposition, made through his representative at the meeting of managers hast week, was that 50 cents an hour should be paid, or $1.50 for each performance.

A committee from the union will call on the managers who have not yet yielded to-day and make one more attempt to effect a settlement. No more strikes will begin to-day.

MR. FLORENCE'S CONDITION.

STILL CRITICAL, BUT BETTER THAN SUNDAY NIGHT-BOTH LUNGS AFFECTED WITH PNEUMONIA. Philadelphia, Nov. 16.-The following bulletin was posted at 11 o'clock to-night in the corridor of the Continental Hotel: "Eleven p. m.-Mr. Florence's condition is still ritical, but better than last night."

Consultations between the physicians, Drs. Pancoast, Da Costa and Donnellen, were held this afternoon and evening, at 4 and 9 o'clock, and the result of their deliberations is embodied in the above bulletin. Dr. Pancoast says: "Mr. Florence is undentably an exesedingly sick man. Little can be said about the prospects of his recovery until after the crisis, which may arrive to morrow or the day after. He is a man of good constitution and physique. Both lungs are affected with pneumonia. His pulse and temperature are high, but these are conditions that always accompany the disease. The patient is conscious. We can mly hope for the best." All day telegrams have poured into the hotel from theatrical and other friends of the sick man, inquiring about his condition. One physician, Dr Donnellen, is in constant attendance and Drs. Pancoast and Da Costa pay frequent visits. Aside from Mrs. Wyard, of Washington, Mr. Florence's sister, Mrs. Barney Williams, his sister in-law, and Police Inspector Confin, of New-York, his brother, the only person who has been permitted to see the patient to-day is his old friend John G. Heckscher, of New-York, who came here for that purpose this afternoon. The interview was brief, but most affecting. Mr. "God bless you." theatrical and other friends of the sick man, inquiring

Boston, Nov. 16 (Special),-"Lady Bountifui," Pinero's comedy drama, was produced for the first time in this city at the Boston Museum to-night, simultane ously with the production at the New-York Lyceum Theatre. The play made an excellent impression of the large and intelligent audience. The strength of the the large and intelligent audience. The strength of the Museum company was cast in the play, and the presentation is artistic and entirely satisactory, taking a front rank among the modern dramas. The pictures of the two sides of English life, the gentry or instinuable idler and the middle and industrious class, were portrayed with a master's touch. The verdict of Eoston is that the play is calculated by its clean and wholesome character, intellectual strength and its mituralness to appeal to the best and most intelligent class of thentre goers.

NOTES FROM THE BROOKLYN THEATRES.

The company of midgets known as the Liliputians appeared last evening at the Amphion Academy, in Brooklyn, in their most successful play, "The Pupil in Magic." An interested andience watched the performance, which was the same as that before presented at the Thalia Theatre, in New-York. The fine costumes, rich scenery, attractive ballets and excellent effects were much appreciated. Roland Reed will appear next

Frederick Paulding was seen in "The Struggle of Life" by a good audience at the Bedford Avenue Theatre last evening. The mechanical effects and rich scenery which are presented with the play were loudly applauded. Miss Annie Ward Tiffany will be seen in "The Stepdaughter" next week.

Miss Lizzie Evuns began a week's engagement at the Lee Avenue Academy last evening in her new play, "Miss Prue," which was received with many marks of favor. It will be followed next week by "A Mile a Minute."

GAY THRONGS IN THE BIG GARDEN.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING OF THE ANNUAL SHOW PRIZES AWARDED.

Even the managers of the Horse Show could not grumble when they saw rain yesterday morning. The drouth has already lasted too long and they were willing to sacrifice themselves on the altar of the com-mon good. Besides, they had sold every box and seat in the Madison Square Garden and felt no uneasine about the probable attendance. It was not to be expected that a great crowd would rush into the Garden at the first opening of the gates, at so early an hour as 9 o'clock Monday morning; therefore, no disappointment was experienced when only a few hundred stragglers passed in. They were only an advance guard, ia skirmish line, thrown out by the main army that marched in later in the day and in the even The day was dark and gloomy and it was necessary to turn on the lights at 4:30 p. m. The boxes were well filled by that time and the scene was gay. The performance dragged somewhat, as the judges, in the endeavor to be entirely impartial, wasted much time i passing upon the merits of the different classes. At 5 p. m. they were an hour behind the schedule and going slower all the time. To lose one hour in four may mean that the judging will extend into the mid-Let the honorable gentlemer dle of next week. awaken and proceed with some show of speed in dispatching their business.

The show opened with a front view of Ringmaster Collins, the most gorgeous bird of plumage in the entire garden, barring one-the beautiful bugler, whose boots would eclipse the moon. The ringmaster's spurs need trimming, as he gets badly tangled up in them at times. Mr. Collins, know all men by these presents, is the man for the place that he is engaged to fill. same might be said of the beautiful bugler who calls the horses to the post. He is second in command to Jules Levy on state occasions.

The managers have adopted a new device for showing the numbers of the exhibits. A pasteboard shield is worn by each groom, one before and one behind, the numbers on which are large enough to be easily distinguished without an opera glass. It is a simple matter for all to know what is going on in the ring. The only complaint heard came from some of th public who were unable to establish the identity of certain well-known people in society who exhibited norses in the ring. It would be a graceful and urteons act for the managers to send out a herald in the course of each performance to inform the public that "Mr. J. Lee Tailer is now driving," or that "Mr. W. Seward Webb is now tooling his four-in-hand." Such little attentions are always appreciated by the intelligent but sometimes misinformed public.

The programme, or catalogue, is skilfully arranged which is a sufficient voucher. It may have its shortomings, but it is so far superior to its predecessors that horse-show patrons overlook every falling and are encouraged to expect something perfect in the future. Its present arrangement is an indication of real progres

The canard about the annex frightened nobody. The annex is all right, and if not fireproof is at least waterproof. The horses seem perfectly happy there.

Some ill-advised persons regard pony steeplechasing a ruelty to animals. They may be politely informed that they are wrong for once. Why the little jackrabbits enjoy the fun immensely. They would rather take a fence or hurdle than a quart of oats. George C. Magoun's Little Chief played with the field in Class 76 and captued the bine rosette to the satisfaction of all.

E. Willard Roby's Nina finished a close second and John E. Cowdin's Ginger was not a bad third. Reynnl's Delbeck was highly commended for his ssidnous efforts to shift his rider. Riders in horse shows are generally the worst in the world. They have not half the courage of the animals they ride, and are the real cause of most of the failures.

His head is small and neatly duseled. His powerful back, with a closely-knit loin disseled. His powerful back, with a closely-knit ioin and well-rounded barrel, makes him look, as he is, a giant in strength. In going he makes free use of his sitoulders, and his extraordinary hock and knee action enables him to trot with great speed, while exhibiting a lofty, even and grand style. He won at some of the principal shows in Europe sixteen first and six second prizes, and at the Boston Horse show in 1889 took the bine roseite. The public has not forgotten that he secured first honors at the New-York Horse Show a year ago. Henry Fairfax imported Matchiess in 1888, and his American home has been at the Oak Hill stock Farm in Loudoun County, Virginla. Mr. Webb has secured a treasure.

Webb has secured a treasure.

The Garden was thronged all the evening, most of the well-known persons in New York and many from Roston and Philadelphia being among the spectators. Many women wore the National Horse show colorsorance and black. The jumping contests, for which all patiently waited, did not begin till 10:30 o'clock. The entries numbered fifty four and it was misinight before half of them had tried the fences. The jumping was unusually bad. A few notable exceptions might be taken in favor of. William sulfivant Allen's bay mare Sweetheart, W. W. Tucker's gray gelding Sir James, Sidney Dillom Ripley's gray gelding Grayback, Theodore Justice's bay gelding Lordship. J. S. Kernoclan did most of the riding. Young Ripley rode his own horse and Thomas Hitchrock, Jr., had the mount on Venus, who was promptly disqualified for lack of sense. Another rider was Robert Maclay, Jr., son of the president of the Knickerbocker Ice Company. He die some clever work in the saddle and may be a second Arthur Coventry.

The crush at the main entrance as the people were leaving the Garden surprised no one. The hunt for carriages was like the old search for a needle in a haystack. The avenue and the cross streets were jummed with vehicles, and the heavy atmesphere was piecced by the shrill voices of grooms and attendants crying our the numbers. The last carriage did not leave the door til o'clock.

IS THE ANNEX DANGEROUS?

THE BUILDING BUREAU SENDS WORD THAT IT IS ERFUTED IN VIOLATION OF LAW.

e annex which has been built on the north side Madison Square Garden for the accommodation of horses at the show is similar to the structures erected in former years for this purpose, but it accommo-dates a much larget number of horses. It is 255 feet long and twenty-seven feet wide, and is covered with tar paper. Reports have been in circulation for two or three days that the inflammable material of the building made it extremely dangerous in the event of a fire. Notice has been served upon the Horse show Association by Thomas J. Brady, Superintendent of Bulldings, that the structure has been erected violation of law, but it is not probable that further action will be taken unless complaint is formally made to the proper authorities. The construction of the nnex is unlawful for two reasons; it is an obstrucone-half of Twenty-seventh-st. east of Madison-ave. are prohibited by a city ordinance. Superintendent Brady said that, having informed the Horse Show Association that the annex had been erected in violation of law, his department could do nothing further without making application to the It would require at least ten days to matter before the courts and by that time the buildingwill be removed by the association. M. F. Cummings. superintendent of the Bureau of Engumbrances of the Department of Public Works, said that his Bureau could have the annex removed at once, for it was cer tainly an obstruction of the street. It would not b He did not think anything could be done unless a formal complaint was made to him, and even if complaint should be filed, there was not money enough at the command of his Bureau to remove this large structure. Mr. Cummings added that if he attempted to remove all the street obstructions in the city of New-York he would soon bankrupt the city.

Superintendent Randolph, of the Horse Show Association, said last evening: "There is absolutely no from fire than three fourths of the stables in this city We have four watchmen on the outside and three in side day and night. The most stringent rules have been made by the association against smoking within the stables and they are strictly enforced. Over 125 horses are in this annex. A number of these animals are of great value, and you may be sure their owners would not risk them in the building if there was any dancer.

CANADA AND THE WEST INDIES.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—The replies of the Governments of the West India Islands to the reciprocity proposal of Mr. Foster, the Dominion Minister of Finance, have been published. On behalf of the Bahamas, Sir Am brose Shea writes: "This colony does not produce sugar. Our exports are fruits and sponges, and in the early future hemp will be the largest export. In the United States, which is at present our chief market. no duties are imposed; and we consequently have no benefit in this respect to receive from Canada."

From Jamaica the response is: "His Excellency lins not placed the matter before his Privy Council, but

OBITUARY.

DR. JOHN CLARKSON JAY. Dr. John Clarkson Jay, a son of Peter Augustus Jay and grandson of John Jay, died at his home. Rye," at Rye, Westchester County, on Sunday, being in the eighty-fourth year of his age. The immediate cause of his death was senile gangrene. Mr. Jay was graduated from Columbia College in 1827, and afterward took his diploma as M. D. Upon his marriage with Laura Prime, a daughter of Nathaniel Prime, a well-known banker, he left the practice of medicine and for a short time was engaged in the banking business, but soon retired from both business and professional pursuits, to live at the country seat at Rye, on Long Island Sound, left to him by his father's will. This beautiful residence gave him full occupation, as it embraced apward of 400 acres of

Mr. Jay was well known in the scientific world as a specialist in conchology, and his collection of shells was for many years the most noted in the United States. It was purchased several years ago by Miss Catharine Wolfe, and presented by her to the American Museum of Natural History. Mr. Jay was for many years a trustee of Columbia College, was one of the early presidents of the old New-York Club, and was one of the founders of the New-York Yacht Club. He was a Republican in politics, and one of the early members of the Union League Club of this city.

An episcopalian, he was a moderate Churchman strict in his own religious observances, but not in the least intolerant as to the views of others. He leaves surviving him one son, Dr. John C. Jay, jr., of this city: four daughters, Mrs. Charles Pember of New-Haven; Mrs. Jonathan Edwards, of New-York; the Misses Cornella and Alice Jay, of Rye, and four grandchildren, the children of his deceased son, the Rev. Peter A. Jay. Dr. Jay was also actively interested in founding the Lyceum of Natural History, now the New-York Academy of Sciences, and was its treasurer from 1836 to 1843. During his more vigorous years Dr. Jay was much interested in aquatic sports and was the owner of a famous yacht called Coquinne. The valuable addition to the treasures of the Natural History Museum purchased by Miss Wolfe is now known as the Jay collection. The shells were gathered during the expedition to Japan under command of Commodore Matthew C. Perry. They were submitted to Dr. Jay and he wrote the article on them that appeared in the Government reports. Dr. Jay was the author of "Catalogue of Recent Shells," which was published here in 1835; "Descriptions of New and Rare Shells, and of later editions of his catalogue, in which he enumerated about 11,000 well-marked varieties and about 7,000 well-established species. Dr. Jay was the cousin of the venerable diplomat, John Jay, who lives at the Langham in this city. The body will be buried in the Jay Cemetery at Rye to-morrow.

GENERAL CHARLES NICOLAS LACRETELLE.

Paris, Nov. 16.-General Charles Nicolas Lacretelle a grand officer of the Legion of Honor, is dead. He was born at Pont-a-Mousson on October 30, 1822. After service in Algiers, where he rose to the rank of captain, he took part in the Crimean War and attained the rank of chief of battalion in the Zonaves. He was made colonel on December 30, 1857, brigadier general on August 13, 1865, and major-general on August 23, 1870. In the Franco-Prussian war he served in the corps of Marshal MacMahon and was taken prisoner by the Germans. After the war he became commander of a division of the Second Corps and was stationed at Versailles, but he was afterward the Tenth Corps. He was made an officer of the Legion of Honor in 1855, a commander in 1861 and a grand officer in April, 1874. In 1863 he published a book on the Algerian crisis which attracted consider-able attention.

METHODISTS MONEY FOR MISSIONS.

HALF A MILLION DOLLARS FOR THE CAUSE IN THIS COUNTRY.

Cleveland, Nov. 16 (Special).-When the Missionary committee was called to order this morning by Bishop Walden hardly a quorum of the members their places. Those who had gone out into the neighboring cities and towns to preach missionary sermons returned one by one, and by 11 o'clock nearly all were in their places. Nearly all the pastors of the Methodist churches in Cleveland took then annual collections for the missionary cause yester The result was most gratifying. Euclid Avenue Church, where the committee holds its sessions, $1,00s was contributed yesterday, against $750 last year. Other churches report an increas places from which the largest increase is reported the speakers made their appeal on the strength of the success of foreign missions. The great sermon of Bishop Warren, of Denver, which was delivered in Music Hall, was listened to by 3,000 persons,

A letter from the venerable Dr. Butler, the founder society's missions in India and Mexico, who now lies ill at his home in Newton, Mass., was read. The secretary was instructed to prepare a suitable

Appropriations for white work in the South were up again. The debate of Saturday on this subof work at large appeared to have exhausted itself, and the amounts asked by the sub-committees were granted. The sums ordered aggregated $50,300; Increase, $030. Appropriations for work among the colored people were next taken up. The society's agents reported satisfactory progress among this class of people in almost every quarter. A total of $57,200 was appropriated, being an increase of $2,205. For the seventh class, embracing seven fields in the Rocky Mountains, appropriations were made amounting to $68,150, ar increase of $6,908. Appropriations were made for the Pacific Const amounting to $30,000, an increase of

A proposition to recommend to the General Conference the separation of home from foreign mission was discussed. Dr. Gucher, of Baltimore, favored the proposition; Secretaries McCabe and Leonard and proposition: Secretaries McCabe and Leonard and Bishop Walden opposed it. By a vote of 24 to 18 it was decided not to make the recommendation. The amounts apportioned to domestic missions footed up $490,525. This was $4,525 more than the amount originally set aside by the committee for such missions. After prolonged discussion it was agreed to deduct the excess from the conference which had received ap-propriations pro rata. An evening session was held.
